Biathletes are tough! Nineteen racers overcame the demands of shooting with cold fingers and skiing in 0 degree temperature to compete in the second biathlon race of the season. This race also served as the first trials race for selecting the Alaska ski and snowshoe teams for the Arctic Winter Games to be held in March 2006 in the Kenai-Soldotna area. In the 6 km race, fastest times were recorded by Janna Widness in the Youth Women class (26:04), Sarah Tegeler in the Senior Girls class (28:59), Taylor Karnikis in the Senior Boys class (25:42), and Andrew Dougherty in the Junior Boys class (27:17). Reidun Todd was the fastest snowshoer (27:43), and Ryan McClure skied the 10 km course in 40:01.
